HEAD TEACHER'S HIGHLIGHTS

Dear parents,

Well, we are surviving all of the bugs -just! We have a sickness bug, covid and chicken pox going around.

Thank you for your cooperation with this, it has had rather a big effect with children in and out of school throughout the week. Hopefully, things will settle next week so we can finish all together. Please also be aware that we have been issued with a heatwave warning for the early part of next week. So, ensure your child is wearing sun cream, brings their water bottle and a sunhat. We will arrange our day accordingly but jut to let you know we won't be doing PE on Monday.

We had lots of lovely comments about our display at the Newport Show. It was an excellent opportunity to show all of the art skills and techniques that the children have been introduced to throughout the year in both class and art club. Particular thanks to Mrs Whitefoot for all her time effort and enthusiasm to enable this work.

We wish Mrs Wellman a safe journey to Peru next week. She has really motivated everyone here to learn more about her home country. We are hoping to do a link with her when she has arrived in Lima. Mrs Wellman has involved all the children and staff in some beautiful artwork, Arpillera Art which she showed very proudly in assembly this morning. We also presented some gifts for the children in Peru which we are sure they will enjoy using and creating their own artwork.

The children had great fun at the leavers party today. There were lots of super dancers with many interesting moves from the teachers as well as the children. The chips and leavers cake went down very well. Many thanks to Friends of School for their organisation, it is much appreciated.

Your child will bring their report home this afternoon so please look out for it in case it gets lost in their school bag. You will see it cover's their progress, attainment, and attendance for the year. Our children work hard, are polite and thoughtful and are keen to learn. They are a credit to you and to our school. We are very proud of all that they have achieved. Well done everyone.

Best wishes

Jenny Griffiths

CLASS 1

We have had a lovely, albeit hot, week in class one!

Year one have been using some of the common exception words in their sentences in English, really concentrating on capital letters, full stops and spelling.

Reception have been perfecting their letter formation this week ready to move into year one!

In maths, reception have been consolidating their learning on the number 5 and year one have been grouping objects and counting in fives.

In our geography lesson this week the children have enjoyed learning about the various layers of the Amazon Rainforest and which animals would be found there. We were amazed to see how many different animals are actually found there, most of which Mrs Wellman has encountered!

Our Peruvian Arpillera artwork is almost complete, we can't wait to show you all!

Have a nice, relaxing weekend and stay safe in the sun!

CLASS 2

It has been wonderful being back in Class 2 this week!

The children have been busy putting all their learned facts into their Peru non-chronological report. The children have shared interesting facts, amazing pictures and a 'Did you know...?' question.

In art we have looked at Henri Rousseau's work that reminded us of the rainforest. So, we had a go at using watercolours and crayons to replicate his work.

Well done Class 2,
another fantastic week!
